OFTEN ALONE WITH MRS. RICHARDSON

Damaging Testimony in the Trial of Stuart Fife.

CASE NOT MADE STRONG

NO EVIDENCE ESTABLISHING GUILT OF MURDER.

The Prisoner Has Many Friends and They Surround Him and His Relatives During the Intermissions of Court.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
SAVANNAH, Mo., March 14.—The prosecution has, so far, presented no strong proof of Stuart Fife's guilt of the murder of his wife, Mrs. Fife, but the people of this city have been surprised to learn how many times Fife and Mrs. Richardson have been seen together by various witnesses.

These witnesses have testified that they saw Fife and Mrs. Richardson in each other's company day and night, on many occasions. At times they were riding, and at other times they were walking along the street.

There was some evidence of that kind at the trial. Mrs. Richardson at Plattsburg, but she refused it all successfully by showing that when she was with Fife she was alone, for her husband was always drunk. On each occasion Mrs. Richardson had one of her children with her according to the witnesses who testified for her.

All these witnesses have testified that they saw Fife and Mrs. Richardson in each other's company day and night, on many occasions. At times they were riding, and at other times they were walking along the street.

Fife holds Levees in the Courtroom.

After each adjournment of court, Fife holds a regular levee. He looks better than he did when the trial began and his cheeks pink while he chats and talks with friends of whom he has many. Among them were several young women, it was said, Joseph, one of whom, Miss Catherine Loper, is a witness on his behalf. Mr. and Mrs. Fife also talked with the visitors, and their son混迹于the crowd.

Mrs. Richardson was in court yesterday for the first time since this trial began. She did not stay long. George Crowley, who was before it for his defense, in case being dragged forward at every opportunity by the defense, is frequently here, however, and his defense counsel holds that it has a right to show his supposed or purported connection with the defense. Crowley, however, will not exit the whole story. The court has not taken this view of the claim, but, nevertheless, he remains in court whenever, by any pretext, the defense calls him. It is mentioned ever since the first coroner's inquiry, in an indefinite way, where the boy was produced four witnesses who say the boy was not there.

The trial was resumed this morning and there was a stir in the courtroom when Sheriff Holcomb entered in charge of Ed E. Norris, the St. Joseph saloon keeper, who was summoned as a witness for the state. Norris was found at Lake Contrary last night by detectives, and was told Prosecuting Attorney Bodine and others soon after Richardson was killed, that he had been Fife's make threat.

Norris was placed on the stand among the first witnesses. He said Frankly that he had been in hiding.

No effort was made to prove that Fife had made threats to kill Richardson. The witness said:

"It struck me to the trouble he was having with Mr. Richardson. He said Richardson had abused him and threatened to kill him. He said something about Richardson being a scoundrel."

"Fife told me that Richardson had abused him before the other clerks. He said he wanted to see him before he left. I will kill you," Fife told me that he intended to protect himself if he had to kill Richardson."

"Was Richardson jealous of Fife and his wife?"

"Fife did not come right out and say so. He said if anything happened before the first of the year, I need not be surprised."

"Dr. J. Lacy told me that Richardson was a great swindler and a dog. They would never talk to him," said the defense.

"He testified that Fife had seen other Savannah people together there but was not allowed to do so."

The Two Wives

Very Friendly.

Ed Thompson said he was at the picture easel next door to the day when Stuart Fife and Mrs. Richardson came there, stopping in front of the shop, he said, he heard Mrs. Richardson ask Fife to have his picture taken, and Fife refused because he was not dressed for it. Mrs. Richardson said she would fix his for him. The witness said and Mrs. Richardson was away together.

Jesse Eaton testified that he heard Fife talking in Gothic Man's saloon five or six times. Fife said he had been to Gothic Man's saloon the night Richardson was killed. Eaton testified that "he was with him." The witness was not questioned further, that point indicating that such a plan of defense had been abandoned by the defense.

DR. HYATT IS MAKING RAIN

But He Expects to Have Cold Weather and Clear Saturday Night and Sunday.

Spring outgoings and spring bays will not be in keeping with the weather Sunday, Weather Forecaster Hyatt says.

He succeeded in making east and northeast winds low that surrounded St. Louis for three days, and though he dealt out warm sunshine with a generous hand Friday, he still had rain, rain, rain.

He wants to get rid of so for Friday night and Saturday to bring cold weather.

Cloudy with probable showers. Colder Saturday night.

The temperature at 7 o'clock Friday was 44 degrees and touched 54 before noon Saturday morning the doctor says it will be colder, and by night the mercury may get in the vicinity of the freezing point.

WHOLE WORLD CHEERS DELAREY

Great Results May Follow His Achievement.

BOTH DARING AND HUMANE

SPEEDY RELEASE OF METHUEN STAGGERS THE BRITISH.

Growth of the Peace Party Led by John Morley Has Been Rapid and May Come Into Power in England.

Special Cable to the Post-Dispatch.

LONDON, March 14.—By one stroke and speedily released, so Gen. Methuen—Gen. Delarey has accomplished more for the Boer cause than has been done in the past 18 months of the guerrilla warfare.

He has called the attention of the world to the fact that the power of the Boers has not been broken, and also that the men who have been regarded as guerrillas and bushwhackers are conducting their warfare on the most humane lines.

The newspapermen are pleased in account for the release of Gen. Methuen, and generally give credit to Delarey for acting with great moderation, courtesy and tact.

The Daily Mail expects to see either Gen. Cronje or Gen. Viljoen returned to the Boers in exchange for the British general.

Nothing has been heard of Gen. Greenfell's column—the force to which Methuen was marching with the purpose of forming a junction with his command was shattered by Delarey's dash.

The silence of Gen. Kitchener on this point is becoming oppressive. Grenfell had nearly 10,000 men, infantry, cavalry and artillery.

It seems probable that a number of Boers under De Wet, who succeeded in breaking through the British blockhouse lines, have made a junction with Delarey.

If this be true, Grenfell and his command are probably prisoners today.

News of another fight is looked for hourly. The next conflict is expected to be in the neighborhood of Klerkstorp. Gen. De Wet and President Steyn are making a rapid march from Worcester to effect a junction with Gen. Delarey. Two British columns have located them, according to a dispatch from Pretoria, and are trying to head them off.

John Morley, member of Parliament for the Montrose boroughs, the uncompromising opponent of the Boer war, speaking at Manchester last night, characterized the conduct of the Irish members of the House of Commons in cheering the announcement of Gen. Methuen's defeat and capture as a brand of right-feeling and the disaster would evidently prolong the war.

Morley's courageous and impassioned speech has powerfully re-enforced the peace movement of the Liberal party. Already a body of Liberals in process of organization asks Mr. Morley to lead in the specific work of educating the country into a conciliatory mood with reference both to South Africa and Ireland.

The coup made by Delarey has given wonderful impetus to this movement.

Field Marshal Lord Wolseley will start for Cape Town to-morrow. The official deny that his trip is anything but a private visit, gossip connects it with the military situation. It is pointed out that Lord Wolseley's knowledge of South Africa, gained as a fighter and administrator, might be highly useful to Lord Kitchener, either at the base (Cape Town) or at Pretoria.

BROKE BLOCK HOUSE LINE.

HEILBROEN, Orange River Colony, (Tuesday), March 11.—Commandant Mensz, with the Heilbron command of Boers broke through the Heilbron-Wolve Hook blockhouse line at Gotterburg last night. The Boers had been pursued for several days. So far as known only one Boer was killed. The British columns, during the course of the pursuit of Commandant Mensz, picked up scattered parties of Boers, aggregating up to 500 men.

COCHRAN PLEADS FOR BOERS.

Appeal Against Shutting the Mouth of the Mersey in South Africa.

WASHINGTON, March 14.—The most eloquent appeal ever made in Congress for the cause of the Boers came from the lips of Representative Cochran of Missouri.

DR. SOMMERS' FAREWELL TO EARTH

(Verse written by Mrs. Sommers' husband on the eve of his suicide, June 19, 1890.)

Good night, old world, good-by to all your joys,

Your passions, pleasures, passions, pomps

I leave you for the eternal silence of the stars—

The vastness of unbounded space, where

No longer hold the soul in durance vile—

When caught can wound and nothing can

Defile.

Where the pure spirit shall despatch its flight.

The sense on earth hath loved, on wings

Bathed in the ether of eternity.

It lived, it loved, it died, it was released free!

And yet it is an awful leap to take into

The great unknown; perchance to wake

To greater woes, indeed, than those we Have known.

And hoped to bury in the silent grave.

But still the great majority is here;

What would we then do, what with fear?

Or tremble when the hour comes?

Come, let us go to sleep.

And may hope for sweet oblivion there.

Then come, come, I mean this night!

Come—row me over the Styx! I've lost

Life's fight!

Mrs. Thomas Osmond Summers, widow of the late Dr. Summers, will shortly go on the stage. She will be accompanied by her 17-year-old daughter, Rosch.

Dr. Summers ended his life in the lecture room of the College of Physicians and Surgeons, by shooting himself, after writing a note.

He was a successful physician and a recognized expert on yellow fever having served in the government in a number of posts in the South, the notable one which was that at Memphis, when his whole staff of physicians and surgeons died about him.

Dr. Summers served in Cuba and was seeking a reassignment to the Philippines when he ended his life. His body reached St. Louis on the day of his funeral.

His life's valedictory, ended a few minutes before he died into eternal rest, engrossed in one of the last bits of American verse.

Mrs. Summers is now living at 449 West

Bellevue Avenue. She has studied hard for two years and has been rewarded with an employment with a prominent musical company organization which will open in the close of the present season.

Mrs. Thomas Osmond Summers is 47 years old and a transplant ability. It is Mrs. Summers' intention to take her daughter with her, and for both to eventually enter opera.

Something Better Than Cheap-Tailoring.

It's safe—and a good policy to pursue in all things—get the best of its kind. We apply this argument to clothes.

Cheap-tailoring is a counterfeit of something better—fine tailoring. Cheap-tailoring must employ a cutter without art and originality—a draftsman of high ability can not be employed by a cheap tailor than the tailoring—it must conform to the price—cheap. The garment when finished bears the unmistakable earmarks of crudeness, stiffness and lack of grace.

MAN TRAVELED AS POTATOES

CHICAGO, March 14.—Billed as a choice shipment of potatoes, a young man has arrived in Chicago from Kansas City tied up in a sack.

For three days and a half, he was confined in the sack and during that time he had traveled about 700 miles in a freight car.

The traveler, who was Martin J. Klansdiger, a machinist, of Kansas City, was nearly famished when he was cut from his prison at the Chicago &amp; Northwestern freight house by a friend who had been waiting for a day and a half in the city for him.

Klansdiger began his journey with only a quart of water and two pounds of crackers, the sack with him, this being his condition of the wager of $300 which caused him to make the perilous trip.

When released Klansdiger was nearly blinded by the dust which had crept into the sack and his vision was dimmed so that he could hardly speak, his little囊 of water having been spilled after he had been on his journey only a day.

For three days he had been with out water and he stated, when he was able to talk, that had it not rained Wednesday night he would have perished.

After the shooting Walker was taken to the hospital, where he died Saturday morning. He was buried at Atlantic City, New Jersey.

Sir Thomas met the pretty American at the station, where he was to board the train for the Southwest, with headquarters at Little Rock, Ark., and he immediately engaged his services.

Sir Thomas' wife, Mrs. Yenger, lives in the rear of the building.

With his special bearing the party pulled into Union Station the great pianist was still sleeping.

His manager, Mr. Adlington of London, Wilfred Heckler, the official custodian of the Paderewski box-office receipts, and his assistant, Rudolph Heck, together with Mr. Meisel, Paderewski's valet, were astir early.

Assistant Treasurer Heck volunteered the information that his employer would not arrive for some time.

"He was very tired on leaving Cincinnati last night," added Mr. Heck, "and retired about 10 p.m. He always aims to get plenty of rest."

A tall gentleman with an abundance of hair stepped into the platform.

The man was Ralph Tapp, special piano tuner, whose duty is to look after the Paderewski instruments.

"I see you are having fine weather here," said Mr. Tapp.

"Yes, sir, that is true. If there is anything

Mr. Paderewski likes it is a nice, bright day.

When Paderewski did finally emerge from his sleeping compartment a half dozen users hurried to the train.

He was in a black Prince Albert coat, a turn-down collar and a black tie.

He remarked that he felt very much refreshed. After he had breakfasted carriages were ordered and the party drove to the St. Nicholas Hotel.

In the baggage car Mr. Paderewski's boxes were placed, and the party drove to the Odeon, where Paderewski will perform Saturday afternoon.

There will be only one St. Louis performance.

COURT OVERRULES TREASURY.

Declarer Citizenship Not Forfeited by Five Years' Residence Abroad.

NEW YORK, March 14.—Judge Cox of the United States circuit court has handed down decision overruling one given by the secretary of the treasury relative to the number of years an American citizen can remain abroad without forfeiting his citizenship.

The plaintiff in the case sued to recover dues on a personal painting by a Philadelphia artist living at Passy, France. The consul-general in Paris refused to clear the paintings as works of American art, pointing out that the secretary of the treasury had declared that, after an American citizen had lived abroad for five years, it could not longer be termed a temporary residence.

Judge Cox held that the secretary of the treasury had no authority to issue such an arbitrary ruling and decided in favor of the importers.

CARNEGIE GAVE 38 LIBRARIES IN DAY

DENIED ONLY TWO APPLICATIONS OUT OF FORTY.

MANY WERE FROM THE WEST

Philanthropist Thinks Book That Can't Live Three Years Is Not Worthy the Name.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
NEW YORK, March 14.—Just by way of illustration at a point that had been made, Andrew Carnegie casually mentioned the fact at the dinner of the New York Library Club that his day's work before going to the dinner consisted of giving away 38 libraries.

"This has been my library day," Mr. Carnegie remarked parenthetically. Mr. Carnegie has a certain day set apart for examining library applications.

"And I'm especially pleased to find that so many applications have come from the smaller cities—especially the cities of the west."

"I have dealt today with at least 40 applications from individuals and cities, with possibly two exceptions. None seemed to me to be worthy, and it has been a very great privilege to give them the money asked for. Most of the places were poor and unable to raise more than a few thousand dollars, and of them not so much for a library building."

When he was asked after the dinner for the details of his day's philanthropy he said:

"Oh, I don't remember the places. There were so many and they were all small." Mr. Carnegie added: "I gave him a bill of whether or not fiction ought to be read. On this point he said:

"John [Horn] said, if a speaker couldn't strike in 20 minutes, he ought to quit."

He had a great deal about a bill in Congress that, he said, is a good idea to deliver letters promptly at every man's door. He is glad to hear from the public that a practical plan has been formed for the delivery of books in the rural communities.

He does not attend public dinners. I don't believe in them," he said.

After the day's work I want to have a good time. In most cases, there is always some one who can call up an hour of instructing persons. I think you can spend the time much more pleasantly."

The greater the deal about the books one reads, especially fiction.

It is much better to have a book of any size than if it is not voluminous than none at all. It may be given to any library.

Libraries to include a provision that no book that had not lived three years in the library should be given to the person doing the slandering that would take place. Yet, is anything worth calling a book that won't last three years?

"The longer I live, the more I agree with Dean Swift that the best furniture is that which you never own one of them. You never see them. You never sit in a room; you have pictures in a room.

You open them not. You read them not. I have the Shakespeare, Milton, a Plato—they are the everlasting flowers."

Why should we smile when you need no book? You are in company if you only look at the back. Just walk around the room and look at the masters; I have got that for 1000 sermons so far as I am concerned."

"I asked the most learned man in all Europe last summer what action he would take if he could not get into any library. He said 4000 volumes would cover all the what-ifs of that—only 2000 volumes for the what-ifs he had written. I do not deny the author, who affects his own time and generation."

James Carlisle, manager of the Eureka Painting Co., at 5 North Tenth street, not a member of the Master Builders' Association, said he will pay the increased scale. He thinks the painters are entitled to it because they have steady work only about six months of the year, and do not average all the year round more than $1.60 a day.

The union barbers want the bosses to raise their rates 15 cents on Mondays and holidays from 10 to 15 cents, and now are on strike Sunday morning if the demand is not granted.

The electricians of the Imperial Electric Light and Power Co. are still out, and there seems little hope of effecting a compromise.

SEVERAL STRIKES THREATENED.

Painters, Barbers and Electricians Are at Odds With Their Employers Over Wage Scales.

St. Louis is threatened with several strikes. That of the International Brotherhood of Painters, Decorators and Paper Hangers will be in force by Friday night unless the bosses accede to the demands of the men to sign the new wage scale calling for an increase from $3 to $3.60 per day.

James Carlisle, manager of the Eureka Painting Co., at 5 North Tenth street, not a member of the Master Builders' Association, said he will pay the increased scale. He thinks the painters are entitled to it because they have steady work only about six months of the year, and do not average all the year round more than $1.60 a day.

KEEP STRONG.

Vinol is a Wonderful Tonic and Strengthener.

The Reason Why We Endorse It So Emphatically.

We have had considerable experience in being able to watch the effects produced by various tonics. We can emphatically state that we know of nothing that will act as a general rebuilding, strengthener and flesh creator, better than Vinol.

When we feel as sure as we do of the good that can be accomplished by this scientific remedy, it would seem strange did we not endorse it and recommend it as highly as we are continually doing.

It is painful for us to see any of our friends or fellow townpeople, weak and debilitated and unable to enjoy life and in a condition where they are apt to succumb to serious illness, when we feel as sure as we do, that if they would but take Vinol, they would find it to be a strength builder and a health maintainer.

We know that Vinol contains in a highly concentrated form, those important medicinal elements that have always made cod liver oil famous. We know also that Vinol does not contain grease and is delicious to take and we know best of all hundreds of people who have been cured and made strong by it. Here is one of many cases:

Mrs. G. W. Henry, 205 First Ave., Joliet, Illinois, says:

"I take the greatest of pleasure in recommending such a fine toning and strengthening medicine as Vinol. I felt run down and was always tired. I had no appetite and did not seem to digest the food I ate properly. I have been taking Vinol for about two weeks and feel strong and well. I now thoroughly enjoy my meals and my domestic and social duties, which used to fatigue me, are now a source of pleasure. I am now a sincere friend of Vinol."

When we talk of Vinol, we know whereof we speak and will inform your readers if we are after all, not after all, what we say.

NEW CAR QUESTION RAISED.

Court Holds That Passengers Carried by Destination Need Not Be Given Free Return Trip.

A new question in street car ethics was raised Friday morning at the trial of W. E. Burchard of 1319 Boyle avenue in the City Hall police court.

Burchard insisted in court, as he had done Thursday night on a Market street car, that a passenger who is carried past his destination through the conductor's mistake, should be allowed to ride to the end of the line and back to the starting point again.

He had passed the corner of Boyle and Jackson streets, and when he argued this point a second fare for the return trip, and attempted to enforce the rule by putting a handbar on the car, he was followed, and passengers called Policeman Galvin.

Galvin, who gave his name to the police, John Perkins, was fined $5 by Judge Sidener. He is a railroad fireman.

Constipated Old Age

Isn't it too bad that so many people, when they get old, get cranky and rickety and mean, and don't feel right towards themselves or anybody else; yet it need not be so.

THE ROMANCE OF A TRAIN ROBBER

Rich Widow Loves and Aids a Desperado.

REWARDS OF $2000 FOR HIM

HIS HAUNTS KNOWN, BUT NO BODY WILL FACE HIM.

Bartow Warren Has Become So Notorious in South Carolina That the Legislature Has Taken Action in Matter.

COLUMBIA, S. C., March 14.—Train robbers in South Carolina have recently become so active that the legislature has passed a law making the offense punishable by imprisonment for not less than 10 years nor more than 20 years.

Following this Gov. McSweeney has offered a reward of $100 for the capture of Bartow Warren, an alleged train robber, and the Southern Express Co. will give double the sum if he is convicted. At the same time it is open to the fact that he is still in his native county. He has twice within the last six months sent messages to Boston, which indicates that he is active in working up evidence against him, that he would kill him if the state would do so.

Warren is of good family, handsome and about 30. He enlisted in the army for the Spanish war, and the severity of discipline was more than he could bear, and he deserted and went to the free West.

He drifted back to his home near Branchburg, S. C., and there he lived because of his desertion from the army and in doubtful reputation.

He had been in two of his acquaintances, named Watson and Connor, a plan to hold up and rob the Southern express train.

The consideration of this plan refused to join him. Warren called them "the boys."

He was a man who knew his heart, and a couple of nights later the train was robbed by one man.

Warren was arrested on suspicion and taken to jail at Orangeburg. It was then that a woman came into the case.

This woman was very handsome but always veiled, secured the best legal defense for Warren, offered bail and made his release.

It is declared that Warren's wife lives on a large estate left to her by her husband. It is declared that Warren is a man of means, and his plan almost openly, although the authorities are supposing, to try to arrest him.

When Warren was brought to trial for this first robbery, the very first case was made out by the state, and in spite of the local feeling developed in his favor, for conviction.

Credit, eleven jurors were for conviction. The twelfth juror hung out for acquittal.

The trial was adjourned.

After a short delay, cast-off ball received was furnished and Warren was set free. There was a difficulty in guessing where the cast-off came from.

Then Warren wanted revenge. Thomas H. Watson and Henry Connor, his old chums, were identified as being his men.

They declared that they had been bought by the express company to swear away his wife.

Connor feared trouble, and remained away from his home. When Warren got off, he immediately returned to Branchville and proceeded to hunt for Watson. They met on the street of the little village.

Watson whipped out a pistol and shot Watson through the heart. He then rode out of town, keeping every one at distance.

Three months after two men held up the express at the water tank near Branchville. This was the second time as Warren.

The express officials are working quietly on the case and have imported detectives to follow up. They say that no expense will be spared to bring the criminals to justice.

Despite the heavy rewards local officers of the law are not anxious to catch the assassin of Warren. All know that he is now a desperado, who will not be easily caught, and that he is not only a formidable opponent in himself, but that he has friends to help him.

The place where there robberies have occurred is just half way between Columbia and Charleston, near the Edisto river swamp.

WAR DECLARED ON LIMBURGER.

Louisville Health Officer Forbids Its Sale and Manufacture.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., March 14.—Dr. M. K. Allen, Louisville's health officer, has opened war on the sale and manufacture of limburger cheese in this city.

He says price will fall and make the cheese less expensive and he is satisfied it is unwholesome and contains many micro-organisms.

A committee of German citizens called on Dr. Allen to protest against the enforcement of the order, and the health officer told them the rule must be obeyed.

The bill was prepared by Comptroller of the City under the direction of the ordinance passed a year ago, which has since been found to be unconstitutional.

The opening of The Meyer Store, which will occur Monday, March 17, will be a departure from the usual in that no pictures, flowers or souvenirs will be given away.

As the Meyer Store will base all its claims to your patronage on the merit of its merchandise, its opening will be marked by the absence of any show or any foolishness. There will, however, be many a pleasant surprise in store for those who come to the opening on Monday. The very novelty of its arrangements will be interesting. The form of interior decoration will be unique—a bit of the tropics set down in St. Louis. The very crispness and brilliancy of the new merchandise will be worth a trip of many miles to see.

There is an air of modernness, a sprightliness, a spirit of progress that cannot be escaped. The enthusiasm of being part of a business destined to such instant success pervades all the store's people. There's something contagious about the conviction that The Meyer Store deserves success and the confidence that merit will not appeal to the people of St. Louis in vain. The faces of the salespeople and ushers will be familiar to you and the familiarity is bound to reach intimacy as you grow accustomed to shopping here.

POST-DISPATCH DAILY RECORD OF MARKETS AND FINANCES

GRAIN MARKETS
GENERALLY SLOWCORN LED IN STRENGTH AND CLOSED HIGHER.

BUT WHEAT CLOSED LOWER

Modern Miller and Crop Advice Bearish on Wheat—Wheat and Corn Cables Again Lower.

The grain markets today were uneven and particularly early, when they were tame, trading being light and extreme quietness prevailed in the pit on change up to within a short time of the noon hour.

The course of the wheat market was far from being a varied one, but throughout much of session the undertone showed a fair degree of firmness, the tendency of price early being upwards, but which in though they made but little progress in that direction during the first half of the session.

The opening for wheat was practically unchanged for May at $1.86, but was higher for July, the range being $1.75-$1.84. Cables brought encouragement to the longs, both opening and closing Liverpool showing longs of 3d. up, while Paris was quiet and low for a short time. London markets were larger at 31.612 but, compared with 24.472 bu a year ago, but they fell off materially after the opening, ending the day totals amounting to 279,000 bu against 328,000 bu last year, while shipments were only 100,000 bu.

Crop conditions in Illinois, according to the late report, were favorable, advised from principal wheat growing sections of assistance that crop was in full excellent condition, being 76 per cent of average for the time of year. Plant small, but strong, and showing signs of promise to make vigorous growth, with favorable weather. There were no complaints of winter damage.

Cables reported Argentine shipments, 904,000 bu for week, as compared with 1,136,000 last week and 1,000,000 for the same period on the coast, nothing doing, and quiet and steady on price.

The small primary receipts, Argentine shipments and good strong corn market held wheat steady the opening for some time after the opening of the markets for a short time, bringing an indifference and May gradually worked up to 82c. with little after, settling at 81.75c. The range was 74c. The rains throughout Texas, Oklahoma and southern Kansas have been abundant and timely, and the crops are in full bloom and fine spring-like weather was reported in these sections. These had no material effect upon prices, as the reports of the crops were not yet in, but corn holding the market steady and prices varied but little. May again closed in a way suggesting still further gains, but June has been quiet, failing to make vigorous growth, with favorable weather. There were no complaints of winter damage.

Berlin cables closed 4c and Budapest 4c lower.

The last half hour of the session showed a slight gain for wheat, the market being sold off to 81.75c and then to 81.5c, at which it closed for the day yesterday. July gained above from 81.5c to 81.75c.

Corn was quite a strong one, and the bulls had rather the best of it, in spite of the apparent lack of strength in the market. ## TRYED TO BITE OFF HER EAR, SHE SAYS

WIFE SO ACCUSES HUSBAND IN DIVORCE SUIT.

OTHER INDIGNITIES ALLEGED

Mrs. Emma Flynn Seeks Legal Separation After Ten Months of Married Life.

In a petition for divorce filed in the circuit court Friday morning Emma Flynn charged that on one occasion her husband, William Flynn, attempted to bite off her left ear.

As a result, she avers, she was in pain for several days.

Mrs. Flynn alleges many other indignities. She says that her husband, who conducted a rooming house, would collect the money from the boarders and spend it on drink.

This condition of affairs, she alleges, continued for some months.

The alleged ear devouring incident followed which she says she had with her husband.

The couple were married, the petition recites July 1, 1901, and lived together until March 1, 1902.

CRATED BY OPENING OYSTERS

SOUVENIRS BANKRUPTED HIM

Hotel Employee Says Prince's Staff Worked Him Over-time.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

CHICAGO, March 14.—Prince Henry's recent visit to Chicago was recalled in the court for the insane today when two patients declared that their mortal troubles were indirectly caused by the brief stay of Emperor William's brother in the city. Both were employees of the Auditorium Hotel, where Prince Henry and his suite and their headquarters were at when he gave $200 in tips.

Albert Silverberg, an oyster opener in the cafe, said:

"I was overworked when Prince Henry stopped here. He ate oysters day and night and the strain was too much. That was the beginning of my trouble. I was opening oysters in my sleep and the last night I fainted."

John Cogey said his friends believed him insane because he made the remark that he was as good a man as any in the Henry. The patients were sent to the Elgin asylum.

ROPE CHAIR AT FLAG-STAFF TOP

It Was Occupied by Steeple Jack Young, Who Fixed the Court House Flag-Pulley.

"I never saw a place where I was afraid to put an American flag," said Edward Young of 1217 North Ninth street Thursday afternoon, climbing to the top of the flagstaff above the Courthouse dome, 120 feet from the ground, to repair the pulley so that a flag may float therefrom on St. Patrick's day.

To the ordinary earth-clinger this feat seemed perilous, but to Young it was a common thing. He ascended the iron dome and crawled out over the lantern on a lightning rod, reaching the foot of the flagpole, and then took a bag of steel pins to insert holes in the staff, an aids to climbing. After examining the iron, he tore down the pins and climbed to the top, 40 feet, hand over hand, as a boy climbs a tree.

At the top he fastened a rope with one hand, and while he fixed the pulley, which had been out of repair some time.

WOOLEN WORKERS ON STRIKE.

Many New Jersey Mills Are Affected by Their Action.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., March 14.—The strike of the American Woolen Co.'s weavers in the National, Providence, Riverside and Weybosset mills in Olneyville, and Manton mills in Manton has become practically general among the union employees throughout these plants. The loom fixers and spinners have joined the strikers, who left yesterday to support the weavers in the fight against the double tax. The spinning departments are still in operation, but the spinning of the spoolers and winders has been called to prepare for a strike, should it be deemed advisable.

On Saturday morning last June two rifle shots rang out clear and sharp from the "Ridge," and Richard Horton and Dave Allen, two members of the Horton faction, fell dead on the public highway. Clarence Shipps was accused, and the rattle of musketry and the grouping of clans told the neighborhood folk that the revival of the old feud was at hand. Then it was that this pretty mountain heroine straddled her horse and canvaised the "Ridge" for peace.

Clarence Shipps' answer, for the record, was that the Horton faction, Manton promised, and the next day young Shipps with his gun shouldered, marched into town and demanded justice. He died at death, his enemies said. Friends he had none, since it was considered better that one remain true and die after the other. Mary Horton rode through the snow and ice and the sleet from her humble home to the hilltop to see what the law required of the forsaken lad, who had refused to do his duty.

Last week his trial came, and evidence clearly showed that he had been shot in the back, his enemies said. Friends he had none, since it was considered better that one remain true and die after the other.

MRS. ASTOR SCORED BY A COLLEGE MAN

PROF. THOMPSON ON QUALIFICATIONS OF A GENTLEMAN.

COLLEGE EDUCATION NOT ONE

Chicago University's History Lecturer Says Truest Gentlemen Are Often Made in Life's School.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

CHICAGO, March 14.—"Mrs. Astor's statement that to be an American gentleman a man must be college bred is an insult to every American citizen."

With these words was uttered at the outset of a lecture scheduled to be on medieval history at the Peacock Room Westfall Thompson of the University of Chicago started students in one of his classes today.

"Such a statement fairly makes my blood boil," said the professor. "In making it Mrs. Astor is putting a false value not only upon the college man but upon the man who doesn't go to college as well. It is merely a case of confounding the truth with one's own person and one's own ideas to say anything so sweepingly."

"Fortunately Mr. Astor's statement is not true and the first people it would affect are genuine college-bred men. As a matter of fact, most of the men who class as 'gentlemen' downtown are not college-bred men and in some ways it is a blessed good thing that they are not."

"For instance, the man who is a college graduate is likely to stay with you but it is nothing to elevate you above your fellow men."

"Education is a good thing but it is not everything. It is a long, long way. If it is your privilege to have an education, thank God for it, but don't let it go to your head. Upon it and boast of it, and above all, don't take it unto yourself for righteousness."

"For instance, for the information you are to get. What you learn there primarily is discipline and devotion to an ideal, and it is important that you stay with it but it is nothing to elevate you above your fellow men."

"What the American people are coming more and more to need is appreciation of what is honest and dignified. It is undoubtedly a good thing to have education, but it is not the only thing you can get. Many men cannot get it, yet for that reason they are not to be deemed inferior to the educated."

"The best way to be a gentleman is to be a good man. It is important that you stay with it but it is nothing to elevate you above your fellow men."
